

GBI'S GREEN GLOBES EMERGING PROFESSIONAL (GGEP) AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

The Green Globes Emerging Professional (GGEP) program is designed for students and sustainability professionals early in their careers. The GGEP training includes the importance of green building, an introduction to GBI and the Green Globes certification system, and key sustainability concepts.

This introductory credential is a great first step prior to becoming active in the green building community and earning the Green Globes Professional credential.

GBI is now accepting ambassadors to serve as champions for the Green Globes Emerging Professional Credential and a sustainable built environment. GGEP Ambassadors will work closely with GBI to promote and expand an inclusive community of future sustainability leaders.

GGEP Ambassadors are:

- Active and efficient marketers
- Leaders interesting in advancing sustainability in the built environment
- Current higher education students, recent graduates, or those with less than five years professional experience

Benefits of becoming a GGEP Ambassador:

- Improve marketing and communication skills
- Demonstrate leadership by leading GGEP trainings and networking events
- Discounted/Complimentary GGP training (50% off for achieving 5 or more enrollments, free for achieving 10 or more enrollments)
